A new light in humanity

by the Master —, through Benjamin Creme, 11 July 2010

Already, the Forces of Light are gaining ground, making progress, winning hearts and minds. Even now, it is possible to predict a sure and safe outcome to the struggle which has been raging, albeit unknown to the majority of men, for the future of planet Earth and its inhabitants.

For countless ages, that struggle has been fought on every plane, in all conditions and situations, and is the very fabric of the history of the world. At long, long last, a new light can be observed in the aura of the race of men, one that augurs well for the future of the race. From where does this new light come? It is, of course, the result of many happenings and benedictions, but above all, it is the sign that men are beginning to see themselves in a new light, beginning to sense themselves as at least potentially divine, certainly more worthy and meaningful than they had thought, and capable of creating a world in which they can take pride.

Notwithstanding the pain and suffering so widespread today, many are sensing a new confidence in themselves and in the future, a new hope that the present ills are transitory, and that a better time is near.

Awakening

Seeing this new light within humanity, Maitreya knows that men are awakening to His efforts and energies, that the new potencies of Aquarius are fulfilling their promise, and are drawing men together in a sensed unity of purpose and pride.

From now on, this dawning sense of unity, and the strength which it engenders, will manifest itself more and more, and will lead to organized action by many to better their lot, to change conditions which belittle men and leave them helpless. In this way, a substantial change in world conditions will take place in a relatively short period of time. Men are approaching the nadir of their self-induced misfortune.

Destructiveness and war, complacency, selfishness and greed, have all played a part in creating these painful conditions. The awakening, the new light, is a sign that men are beginning to understand the Great Law: harmlessness, alone, brings men into correct relation with the Law of Cause and Effect, the fundamental Law of our lives. This is a spiritual truism but one that the race of men has found difficult to understand or accept. Such an understanding and acceptance would change for ever, and at a stroke, much unnecessary pain and suffering in our world.

The Aquarian Energies, gathering potency with every day that passes, will make it easier for men to see the need for harmlessness. These benign forces work towards fusion and synthesis and so lessen the desire for competition and assertive individualism. The signs are beginning to show that man is on his way.

The Master —, is a senior member of the Hierarchy of the Masters of Wisdom; his name, well-known in esoteric circles, is not yet being revealed for various reasons.

about us

Share International Australia is a network of volunteers who work with similar groups worldwide.

Our purpose is to make known information about the emergence of the Spiritual Hierarchy and their concerns. These include realization by humanity of our divine nature; a world at peace; restoration of the environment; sharing of the world's resources; and adequate and appropriate food, housing, healthcare and education for all people.

We are not affiliated with any religious group; we respect the truth at the heart of – and common to – all spiritual traditions.

While the name Maitreya is used by others, their understanding of the World Teacher may not correspond to that presented by Share International.

Anyone presently promoting him - or herself as Maitreya or the World Teacher is definitely not the same individual we refer to.

Who is Maitreya?

Maitreya (pronounced my-tray-uh) is the personal name of the Head of the Spiritual Hierarchy.

He is expected by the world's major religions as the Messiah, Krishna, the Imam Mahdi, Maitreya Buddha, and the Christ. Although the names are different, they all refer to the same individual: Maitreya, the World Teacher.

An Avatar for the new age, He returns as the Teacher and guide for all humanity, religious and non-religious alike. He comes with His group, the Masters of Wisdom. Together, they will inspire humanity to create a brilliant new civilisation based on justice and sharing. He will launch a call to action to save the millions of people who starve to death every year in a world of plenty.

Among Maitreya's recommendations will be a shift in social priorities so that adequate food, housing, clothing, education, and medical care become universal rights. His open mission in the world is about to begin. As Maitreya himself has said: "Soon, now very soon, you will see my face and hear my words."

Maitreya, as he appeared in June 1988 to a crowd in Nairobi, Kenya.

Maitreya steps forward

Maitreya has now given twenty-eight television interviews—so far, all in the US. He uses the same name each time – not Maitreya but another name which He will use until the Day of Declaration.

A Prayer for the New Age

I am the creator of the universe.
 I am the father and mother of the universe.
 Everything comes from me.
 Everything shall return to me.
 Mind, spirit and body are my temples,
 for the self to realize in them
 My supreme being and becoming.

A Prayer for the New Age, given by Maitreya the Christ, is a great mantram or affirmation with an invocative effect. Using this prayer will enable one to recognize that man and God are one, that there is no separation. The 'I' is the Divine Principle behind all creation. The Self emanates from, and is identical to, the Divine Principle.

The most effective way to use this mantram is to say or think the words with focused will, the attention at the ajna center between the eyebrows. When the mind grasps the meaning of the concept and, simultaneously, the will is brought to bear, then those concepts will be activated and the mantram will work. If it is said seriously every day, there will grow inside you a realization of your true Self.

If repeated daily, the prayer will gradually confer an awareness of the Self. That awareness eventually develops into Self-realization, which is perfection.

Transmission Meditation

Transmission Meditation is a group service activity which 'steps down' the great spiritual energies that continually stream into our planet. During transmission, the Masters of Wisdom direct these energies from the spiritual planes through the energy centers (chakras) of the group members in a highly scientific manner. This process, which makes the energies more useful to humanity and the other kingdoms in nature, is similar to that of electrical transformers, which step down the power between electrical generators and households.

Transmission Meditation is safe, scientific, non-denominational, and extremely potent. It will not interfere with any other religious or spiritual practice. In fact it will enhance your personal meditation and any other service activities in which you may be engaged. No special expertise in meditation is required in order to transmit energy.

There are more than 600 Transmission groups in 40 countries worldwide meeting on a regular basis.

The Great Invocation

From the point of Light within the Mind of God
Let light stream forth into the minds of men.
Let Light descend on Earth.

From the point of Love within the Heart of God
Let love stream forth into the hearts of men.
May Christ return to Earth.

From the centre where the Will of God is known
Let purpose guide the little wills of men
The purpose which the Masters know and serve.

From the centre which we call the race of men
Let the Plan of Love and Light work out
And may it seal the door where evil dwells.

Let Light and Love and Power restore the Plan on Earth.

The Great Invocation is an ancient prayer, translated by Hierarchy into modern words. It was used by the Christ for the first time in 1945, at the same time as he announced his decision to emerge into physical contact with humanity. It was released by Him to humanity to enable man himself to invoke the energies which would change our world, and make possible the return of the Christ and Hierarchy. It has been translated into many languages and is used today in almost every country in the world.

The Great Invocation is used at the beginning of Transmission Meditation to invoke or call forth energy, which is then transmitted. It should be said aloud, with the attention focussed on the ajna centre between the eyebrows.

Messages from Maitreya

Between September 1977 and June 1982, British author and lecturer Benjamin Creme received a series of 140 Messages from Maitreya, the World Teacher.

These Messages were given during Creme's public lectures in London via a process of mental overshadowing or spiritual telepathy, which is not related to mediumship or channelling.

Through these communications, Maitreya suggests the lines that social change must take, and evokes the desire to share and serve humanity. He also gives hints on how to recognize him and urges people to make known the fact of his presence.

Message No. 8

October 27, 1977

Once more I have the pleasure of speaking to you in this way.

My intention is to reveal Myself 'ere long, to send My Teaching into the world through My people, those who know Me, who love Me, and through whom I work.

This is the first phase of My Plan. Then will follow Myself in full vision, known and recognised or not.

When the world is ready to receive Me, I shall speak to men everywhere as the One Who is awaited, the One they have called, the One Who comes to lead them into the New Age.

My Mission is but beginning, yet, already, there are the signs of response, of recognition that My Advent is nigh. Many there are now, throughout the world, who feel My Presence, who stand open and ready for My Teaching.

When I make Myself known, I shall express the hope of all mankind for a new life, a new start, a readiness to change direction; to see the construction of a New World in which men can live in peace; can live free from fear of themselves or their brothers; free to create from the joy in their hearts; free to be themselves, in simple honesty.

My task is but beginning, but even now there exists in men's hearts a new light, a new hope, a sense of a new beginning; a realisation that man is not alone, that the Protector of All has sent His Agent.

It is That which I am.

May the Blessings of Him be upon you all.

May the Divine Light and Love and Power of the One God, Protector of All, be now manifest within your hearts and minds.

May this manifestation lead you to know that you are never without the close Presence and Guidance of God.

The Space Brothers and the Ageless Wisdom

Gerard Aartsen's new book, George Adamski: A Herald for the Space Brothers will be of interest to readers of Share International in the way it takes Benjamin Creme's writings, and particularly his latest book, The Gathering of the Forces of Light, as a context and backdrop for an exploration of what Aartsen calls the 'substance' of George Adamski's work. Rather than focusing solely on the 'truth' of Adamski's claims about his extra-terrestrial contacts as most writers have done, Aartsen emphasises those aspects of his writings that clearly relate to the Ageless Wisdom teachings. Here Aartsen draws on work by Adamski that is much less well known than his books Flying Saucers Have Landed (1953, co-authored with Desmond Leslie) and Inside the Space Ships (1955). Most of these writings are scattered among a wide range of publications and are largely now out of print. Gerard Aartsen does an invaluable service in bringing them to our attention in this scholarly book. One article by Adamski, 'The Space People' (1964), a fascinating account of the nature and lives of Venusians, is published for the first time along with a chapter from Cosmic Philosophy, published in 1961. The book also includes a comprehensive listing of Adamski's extensive life's writing.

– from a review by Phyllis Power in Share International magazine, September 2010.

Gerard Aartsen has a Master of Education degree from the Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences. He has been a student of the Ageless Wisdom teaching for over 30 years and is a long-standing co-worker of Share International. His research into the teachings of the Masters of Wisdom has produced a comprehensive catalogue of esoteric literature, available at www.biblioteca-ga.info.

George Adamski has been confirmed to be a 2.0 degree initiate by Benjamin Creme's Master.

[Of Adamski's experiences 'inside the spaceships'] Benjamin Creme has said: "The only thing he omitted to say (he was probably unaware of the fact) was that he was out of the body during the whole experience."

In the preface to Angels in Starships, [former USAF fighter pilot Wendell C Stevens] writes of a meeting he had with Benjamin Creme in May 1990: "Mr Creme affirmed that George Adamski's contacts were real and that some of them took place in dense physical reality, just as described by Adamski himself. To a question about Adamski's contactors saying they came from Venus, Mr Creme readily replied that it was true. In fact, he added the information that there were many Venusians among us then, and even today, and that George Adamski was a Venusian spirit who had taken incarnation here for a very specific purpose, which he had fulfilled before leaving this realm in death of the physical body.

Was the "vagabond" a Master?

It was already past three o'clock when I started on my weekly shopping in a huge shopping mall. Being a Friday it was rather crowded and the queues were long. By the time I had done everything apart from my weekly food supply, I felt very tired and my legs were aching. I decided to take time off for a cuppa to restore my energies for the last bit.

On the way to the coffee shop I passed a Patisserie with a very tempting assortment of cakes, pies and fancy buns. My attention was drawn to a vagabond standing at the counter. While he was trying to decide what to buy, he moved along the counter and shoved his beautiful new back pack along the floor with his foot. It all looked very awkward as the back pack had attached to it a beautiful new sleeping bag, without its cover(!), spilling out over the floor and getting very dirty. People were staring but did not react. My heart went out to him as he could well be homeless and had used his pension check to buy extra warmth for the freezing nights.

He was of a dark ruddy complexion, with shoulder length, thin black and gray hair. His small striking light blue eyes did not match his skin complexion. He behaved very naturally and in a very dignified manner despite all the outward appearances.

I entered the coffee shop next door and took a seat against the wall. To my surprise the vagabond later walked in with his beautiful back pack and the new sleeping back still dragging behind him. Here he also looked at all the goodies before making a choice.

While he was making up his mind I went to the owner and said to him that I would gladly foot his bill. He said: "Are you kidding? He has plenty of money, he was holding a $50 note in his hand". He could see that I was going to defend "my vagabond" with: "But...". He did not let me go on and just said: "Yes, yes I know. You are a kind lady". And I left it at that.

The man ended up sitting very close to me. By now the possibility that "my vagabond" could be a Master had of course occurred to me. Somehow I found it hard to approach him as it almost felt that I was invading his privacy. My eyes were already glued to him anyway. I received a few furtive glances and I knew that he knew what I was thinking. He ate his sweet and drank his cappuccino like a gentleman and after giving me a last furtive glance he left.

For the rest of that day I kept on wondering about the events. At one stage I was overcome with emotions of enormous longing to live in a world ruled by the principles of Sharing, Justice and Cooperation, tears started to stream down my face. Then at last the Masters can walk freely amongst us again, as our Elder Brothers, recognised as such by every one. A truly Golden Age.

Tilly, SA.

Benjamin Creme has confirmed that the "vagabond" was the Master Jesus.

Transmission Meditation Conference, San Francisco, USA, August 2010

The San Francisco conference has been a feature of Benjamin Creme's United States public lecture tour for nearly thirty years now, and this August we were fortunate enough to be able to attend. We thought it would be good to share some of our experiences of the events and conference in the hope that more co-workers might make the trip, as we were the only Australian representatives and well outnumbered by New Zealanders!

We had arrived early enough and were able to attend a Transmission Meditation session on the Thursday night prior to Benjamin's Sunday public lecture. About thirty or more people, including Benjamin, crowded into Michiko's Transmission Meditation space from around 8:00pm to about 11:45pm. This is quite a bit longer than our usual meditation time at home and really focuses the attention on the amount of commitment to service needed if one is going to do this work.

The following Sunday afternoon we attended Benjamin's public lecture at the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco. Although not adept at estimating crowds, there seemed to be about 400 people in attendance and by show of hands, a good percentage were first time people. This was followed on the Tuesday night by a public Transmission Meditation at the Fort Mason Centre, by San Francisco Bay, attended by 140 or more people, with at least half being first timers. Again Benjamin spoke for an hour and a half, followed by a two hour meditation.

2010 San Francisco, USA Transmission Meditation Conference

The conference commenced on the following Friday at the Marin Headlands Institute, just north of the Golden Gate Bridge by the Pacific Ocean; a beautiful, quiet, and cold spot. The facilities were excellent, accommodation good and food was also great, supplied by a permanent staff of the Headlands Institute, to whom Benjamin is a familiar figure after so many visits. The highlight of the Friday was Benjamin's Keynote Address, which this year was based on the subject of "Unity in Diversity". Details of this talk will be available in future Share International magazines, so we won't attempt any summary. Suffice to say it was a wonderful talk and created a lot of comment, questions and interest among the conference delegates.

We were part of a conference group of 100; us two, the aforementioned group of New Zealanders (about 6 or 8) and the rest mainly Americans (as you would expect) plus some Canadians. It was a good opportunity to meet some of the diverse people involved in this work and to gain a greater appreciation of the larger picture than our somewhat isolated Australian experience to date, where local groups are separated by large distances.

Other parts of the conference involved group discussions, questions and answers by Benjamin on the keynote topic and lengthy meditation sessions Friday and Saturday nights. We can recommend that if you get a chance, do apply for a spot in the next conference. It was an uplifting, invigorating and inspiring time, which we would not hesitate to recommend to co-workers. We at least need to match the NZ crowd (delightful people that they are) with a few more Aussies!

Love, Cheryl and Murray, WA.
